Christian Education Resource Center

Rio Grande Christian Education Resource Center

Will you continue in the Apostles teaching? The first item in the first question of the Baptismal promises. The Christian Education resource center aims to support the local work to educate, form and shape Christian life and knowledge. The Resource center is comprised of a wide range of video and curriculum materials.

Last year the materials for the Center were moved from El Paso to the new home at the Cathedral in Albuquerque. At this time the center is being renewed. The priorities for materials include:

Video resources for adults, youth and children.

- That the materials be primarily educational series and productions,
- That they be rare or expensive videos relevant to Christian life and faith,
- That the collection represents a balance of theological traditions and strives to showcase the classic and contemporary streams of Christianity and the Episcopal Church.

The new home of the Resource Center is in the Middleton Rooms of the Cathedral, above Kaseman Hall. A small oversight committee has been developed to help the center represent the breadth of interests in the diocese. All parishioners and leaders in the diocese are invited to stop by and consider the options. The coordinator has prepared an online directory of the offerings. All resources on the website are currently available and accessible. If you have an old catalog, please call first to see if a resource is still available. If your internet access is limited, please call for assistance.

The resource center also seeks to have samples of Episcopal-popular curriculum options for young people.

In the coming years we hope to move from a primarily VHS assortment to a stronger assortment of DVD materials. Maybe your church has purchased a series of DVD's that you found inspirational and would like to share them with the diocese. Perhaps there is a DVD resource that you would like to see us have: let us know. You can access the new online directory by following a link from the Diocese of the Rio Grande website.
